

Tee It Up: Best Father's Day Gifts For The Golfing Dad

Waterproof Golf Bags: Into every life some rain must fall, and that's especially true for avid golfers, and even more so if they take golf vacations where they are likely to play rain or shine. I've never heard of anyone passing up a round at Scotland's St. Andrews or Ireland's Ballybunion or even Pebble Beach because of rain. But on these trips, golf bags tend to get soaked, which means club grips and everything in the bag pockets gets soaked, and they can take days to dry out. With all the high-tech outerwear that has been on the market for years in hiking, skiing, biking and golf, it's amazing we haven't seen more bags like the totally waterproof H2NO series from Sun Mountain, which I have long regarded as the premier golf bag maker in just about every category, because they are well-designed, ergonomic, lightest in class and super durable. This is an everyday bag that happens to be waterproof, hood included, and simply makes a great upgraded replacement to the existing bag of any Dad who would ever play in wet weather. It is available in four sizes styles, including a cart bag and three carry bags, from ultra-lite to regular, and was a 2013 Golf Digest magazine Hot List selection ($229-$289).
